DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
2. The amended title, "Timer Having a Split Geartrain" of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. The examiner suggests "Timer Motor Having a Split Geartrain Extending Through the Stator Plate".

Inventorship

3. The applicant is required to file a statement requesting the deletion of the name of the inventor Robert G. Sokalski as required under 37 CFR 1.63(d)(2), see also MPEP 201.06(c)B.INVENTORSHIP.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2834

5. Claims 1, 2, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Muller et al. (Muller)(US 4426158). Muller teaches a timing motor and gear train having a stator plate 2 with upper and lower sides and a rotor 35, and having gear trains above and below the stator plate 2 with the shaft 44 engaging the gear 46 through the stator plate. The rotor mounted in an orifice which has a circumference and is bounded by a plurality magnetic poles. Muller teaches bus bars 308-314 connected to a resonator/timer.

6. The rejection of the claims over Tuschiya and Galie are withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muller et al. (Muller)(US 4426158) and Horbach (US 3215964). Muller teaches every aspect of the invention except a coil wound on a rectangular bobbin with square wire terminals. Horbach teaches a bobbin with square terminals for the magnetic wire on the bobbin to provide inexpensive and fast assembly of the electric coil with other components. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to construct the motor of Muller with the square wire terminals of Horbach to provide inexpensive and fast assembly of devices required electric coils on bobbins.

10. Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muller et al. (Muller)(US 4426158), in further view of Plancon et al. (Plancon)(US 4888507). Muller teaches every aspect of the invention except a steel post perpendicular to the stator plate. Plancon teaches a steel post in the rotor perpendicular to the stator to provide a single machined rotor, pinion 6, and bearings. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to construct the motor of Tsuchiya or Galie with the steel post of Plancon to provide simplified production and strong steel bearings.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
